

Astrophysical Experimental Methods

(Filippo Maria Zerbi, INAF)

We will explore in the course the most commonly used techniques for collecting astronomical observations across the entire electromagnetic spectrum. We will discuss the operating principles of telescopes, detectors, ground-based and space-borne facilities, and elements of data reduction.